'All we want you to do is use your imagination.'

says Salty to you, the audience.

Twelve members of Caldbeck Players, of all ages, become twelve pupils at a comprehensive school. Encouraged by their enthusiastic drama teacher, they act out a play about school leavers, their teachers, and their drama
classes...

Teachers is a comedy, a comedy which illustrates many anxieties in education today.'

[John Godber]

The Play is based on truth...

But the names and faces have been changed
To protect the innocent...

[Gail, Sally & Salty]
